More Than a Tag it's a Profit Builder

Sure, the calves may be black hided. But does that mean they are Angussired? To be sure, look for the AngusSource[®] Genetic tag.

With the tag, potential buyers can be confident that calves are bred to perform and are worth the extra investment.

With the tag, commercial cattlemen can collect on the true value of their Angus-sired feeder calves and replacement females.

With the tag, all cattle producers can take note of the role genetics play in increasing the profitability of the beef industry.

To be eligible, cattle must be sired by registered Angus bulls, born on the ranch of origin, and have calving or breeding records to document group age. Contact the AngusSource team today.
